BUSINESS CARD

Business cards are tools which can be easily and readily handed out to anyone in need of them or interested in the brand, they can also be placed in office spaces and reception areas with the same or relatively similar work function as the brand itself. Adding QR codes or vendor apps to your business allows you to connect the target audience to the digital space.

Z-FOLD BROCHURE

Brochures for mental well-being can be placed in doctors offices and psychology reception desks this gives more in depth detail about the brand, allowing you a reach a larger potential client base. This design incorporates visual story telling such as hands reaching out and a comforting hand hold to symbolize how the app assists individuals. Well designed brochures show proffesionalism and increase the credibility of the brand and business.

LETTER HEAD

THE FUTURE OF THE BRAND

This serves as marketing approach for business or professional settings. Using your logo in the letterhead shows confidence and belief in your brand an business. In the example being used the letterhead is attached to pitch showing off the growth and development of the business for investors.

APPAREL

Apparel creates a greats a sense of community and belonging allowing the users or people using the services provided by the brand or business to feel as though they a part of bigger community. This always aids with passively advertising the brand as many people wearing the brand image in open or public spaces introduces the brand to newer and bigger audiences.

SOCIAL MEDIA CARDS

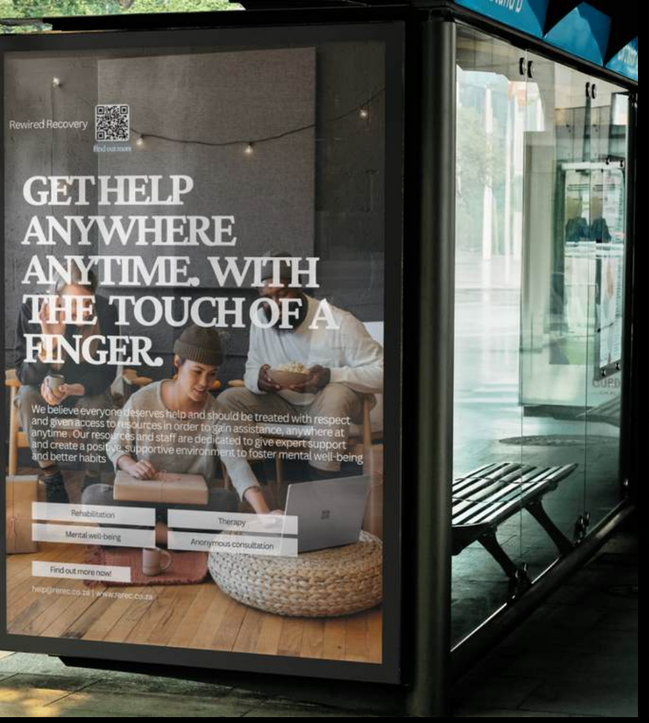

With the rise of social media; Instagram, TikTok, YouTube and WhatsApp, advertising has become substantially easier allowing your brand and business to reach a global audience without the need for additional marketing. Using social media presents the option for the public, users of the app and business themselves to share the brand either using a post on TikTok or Instagram, a status on Whatsapp or paid sponsorships on Twitch or Youtube.

POSTERS

This is an excellent tool that can be used to advertise the company in any public spaces and reach out to the community. Posters quickly catches the attention of people, while using and including QR codes allows the poster to quickly and easily connect the public to the digital space; website or application in order reach a wider audience.

Usage of the posters

Different formats and layouts of the advertisement for the app were designed. These designs were chosen for different environments and details, such as billboards and digital sign boards found in malls.

- Placing posters near train stations, bus stops or public resting areas, makes it easier for the public for the public to find out more about your business. The material being at eye level allows you to incorporate QR codes or images of vendors where the app is hosted on allows the public to quicker access.

- The larger posters placed in more open spaces allows more people to gain exposure to the business, either by placing them near roads, malls or city buildings. This however does not allow easy access and interaction via QR codes and may need vendor apps where the business' main application is hosted.

MECHANDISE

Merchandising is a quick and easy to make revenue and allow the public to passively advertise and market your brand for you. Different merchandising which are easy for the public to market, are bottle or thermoses which can be carried year round with the individual giving easier marketing to people in their work spaces or general area, tote bags allow your audience to reach a wider audience as many people use them more crowded areas such malls for shopping.
